The trip in more detail:

DAY 1

Friday 9th September 2022. Calais to near Paris, France (170 miles)Â
Â

We'll take the morning
Eurotunnel crossing from Folkestone to Calais then avoid the motorway all day as we set off along the French coastline before heading inland to our
Chateau near Paris.Â Â Â

Our 4* Chateau for the evening is new for this tour and is a very grand destination to enjoy our first night together and share in the anticipation of the adventure ahead.

To enjoy this Chateau at its best, we've taken the liberty of booking it to include dinner.

Day 2

Saturday 10th September. Near
Reims to near Clermont Ferrand,
France (260 miles)

The object of today is to clear some mileage to place us in the southern region of France but still arrive in good time at our wonderful 5* chateau.

The majority of the route is rural enjoying the wide expanse
of the French countryside.
Although there are no headline
roads associated with the gorge and alpine driving later in this tour, these very quiet rural routes offer a unique blend of driving experience very different from UK driving.Â

Â For lunch we'll detour to the banks of the River Loire.

France. Our magnificent 5* chateau, another new for this year is set in the Auvergne region of

It enjoys comprehensive wellness facilities and is nestled in acres of beautiful grounds, a perfect place to relax after a full day behind the wheel. It is remotely located hence we've booked it to include dinner.

Day 3

Sunday 11th September 2022. Near Clermont Ferrand to Gorge near Millau, France (270 miles)

The day starts with a wonderful 140 mile cross country drive snaking through the undulating terrain of the Auvergne region guiding us to our scenic lunch spot. By design we then use an unusually enjoyable section of Autoroute to take us south.

Mid-afternoon takes in an experience you're sure to never forget, one of France's most recognisable sights, the Millau Bridge.

Stretching over the Gorge Du Tarn in the Massif Central and reaching up to 300 metres (984 ft), it's taller than the Eiffel Tower!

Not even the picture on this tour page can prepare you for the real life experience of seeing this engineering marvel for yourself.Â

Then it's time for an incredible drive as we take in the amazing scenery of a nearby Gorge to lead us to our hotel nestled in the heart of this stunning location.

This remote 4* hotel has been booked to include our evening meal.

Â

Day 4

Monday 12th September 2022. Gorge to Cannes (270 miles)

Used by the likes of Top Gear and many motoring journalists, this morning is a wonderful driving experience.

We take the long route out of the gorge before enjoying an eclectic mix of scenery and roads that this varied route offers up. One client after experiencing the wide open roads of a section within a national park, declared it "the drive of my life".

After a morning enjoying some of the most incredible terrain the Massif Central has to offer we'll stop off for lunch before using the Autoroute to clear some mileage and lead us to our hotel on the beachfront of Cannes.

We are using a wonderfully located hotel overlooking both the beach and harbour. We are here for two nights and have not included evening meals so you have the option to venture away from the hotel should you choose.

Importantly, secure parking for our group is pre-arranged.

Day 5

Tuesday 13th September 2022. Rest day

We suggest a day of rest and leave the car parked up as our hotel is perfectly located to enjoy your day in Cannes on foot.

For those who want to get in the car, then there are plenty of nearby options including Nice and Monaco.

Day 6

Wednesday 14th September 2022. Cannes to near Briancon, France (210 miles)

Today is a unquestionably one of the most memorable driving experiences of the tour and for this year there are some brand new routes.

Our route starts near Monaco utilising the twisting tarmac of the French and Italian borderlines. This is an involving drive with an eclectic mix of stunning scenery all day long ending in the stunning French Alps near Briancon.

We return to a ski lodge hotel we have not used for many years which enjoys panoramic views of the surrounding Alpine scenery.

Owing to being in yet another very remote location, our overnight stay includes an evening meal.

Day 7

Thursday 15th September 2022. Near Briancon to Lake Annecy, France (125 miles) Â

Today is only a morning drive but although short, packs in some wonderful driving guiding us through more dramatic Alpine scenery to guide us to our final destination on the shores of Lake Annecy.

Some new routes will be enjoyed this morning and the hotel is also new for this year.Â

Our beautiful 4* hotel offers private parking for our group and enjoys commanding views across one of the most famous lakes in the Alps.

The afternoon is yours to explore the local area or venture further to the north of the lake into the medieval old town.

This hotel is booked on a B&B basis.

Day 8

Friday 16th September 2022. Lake Annecy to near Reims, France (360 miles)

Although we have some mileage to cover today which therefore must include some autoroute, the majority of the day utilises those glorious open cross country roads which France is so well known for underlying yet again the vast array of roads and scenery offered up on this tour.

We'll certainly see off the tour in style staying in a luxury 5* chateau, new for this year.

Set within immensely impressive grounds this is the perfect venue to reflect on this truly incredible tour.

Owing to its remote location and to enjoy the last night of the tour together, this evening includes dinner.

Â Day 9

Saturday 17th

September 2022. Near Reims to Calais, France (160 miles)

Our last day and just a short morning drive will bring us to Calais to catch our Eurotunnel crossing by lunch time.

Upon arriving back in the England we'll bid farewell as we all slip back into the grim reality of driving on our less than inspiring motorway network to lead us all home.

Until next time.....
